Dr. Walker To Have Prize Essay Published

Dr. Wanda Walker, education department, has been awarded a first prize of $500 for her essay, "Toward A New Philosophy of Education," which she wrote during the past year. The amount of the prize will be applied against royalties.

Dr. Walker said the essay deals with the philosophy of education in public schools today and how the public schools are now developing educational theories of the Greeks. It deals with the responsibilities of teachers, administrators, pupils, parents and the patron groups, among other subjects.

This is Dr. Walker's second work to be published. In 1960 she wrote a "Teachers Manual to Accompany Dr. Jersild's Fifth Edition of Child Psychology."

Notification of the award was received this week from Philosophical Library, New York. The essay, judged by three judges, will be published early in the spring of 1963.

Dr. Walker is the wife of E. C. Walker, secretary of Maryville Chamber of Commerce, and the family has lived in Maryville since 1955. She also has had short magazine articles published in School and Community, Missouri State Teachers Association official publication.

Tomes Receives $100 And Trip to Florida

Gary Tomes, junior at NW-MSC and 4-H member from Ridgeway, received $100 and an expense paid trip to the convention of the National Association of Mutual Insurance Company which was held in Florida October 28-31.

The money and the trip were won because Gary discovered 143 fire hazards while inspecting ten different farms.

Students View Ancient Art

Three hours in which to absorb the artistic achievements of mankind throughout a period of centuries - this was the ultimatum given the humanities students who visited the Nelson Art Gallery, October 23. A total of six busloads of students took advantage of the opportunity to see the gallery. They were accompanied by Mr. Guy Bensusan of the humanities department.

Upon arrival, the visitors were divided into small groups, each of which toured the gallery under the direction of a guide.

Among the foremost points of interest was the section containing collections from the Ancient World, which has been the subject of lectures and class discussions since the beginning of the semester. They were offered a chance to observe actual artifacts from Babylon, Egypt, Assyria, Persia, Greece, and Rome.

Next came a glimpse of East Indian Art, including a small room with the decor of an Indian temple. Following a brief survey of European and American paintings, the groups were left to explore on their own.

Collections of Chinese sculpture and of Chinese bronze were among the outstanding features of the gallery. Also a series of rooms were furnished in the styles of various periods in American history.

New Probation Policy Announced

A change has been made in the number of grade points a student must fall behind before he is placed on probation. Retroactive to September 1, 1962, the ruling now reads as follows: "Any student who at any time falls behind as much as 11 grade points in his cumulative total shall be automatically placed on probation."

The change from the former 7 grade points to the present 11 is a faculty action which was made October 15.

Dr. Robert Foster, Dean of Administration, explains, "We feel this is an improvement in that it prevents the failure of one course from placing a student on probation." Dean Foster also added, "This is not a letting up of standards, but a more reasonable approach to the problem of probation."

Blue Room To Open Mon.

The Blue Room of the Student Union will be opened for meal service next Monday, according to President J. W. Jones.

Designed to accommodate 270 students, the room has been accepted by the architect and the Board of Regents. It is expected to aid considerably in the serving of meals to the student patrons.

Plans for use of the new area and co-ordination of its use with present facilities have been made by the Dean of Students, the Union Board, and the President of the College. The new room is expected to reduce the length of serving lines and to increase the rate of flow.

Acceptance of the Union building air-conditioning unit awaits the inspection and testing of the unit.

Students Attend Journalism Meet

Last Friday several members of the Northwest Missourian staff attended the Missouri College Newspaper Association fall workshop at Columbia, Missouri. The staff members attending were Larry Schulenberg, Linda Jones, Curt Streetter, Rosanne Lyle, Dick Wiederholt, and Mr. Donald Peel, sponsor.

The students and Mr. Peel were guests at a luncheon held at the Student Memorial Union, at which Professor Frank Rucker spoke on the topic "I Enjoy Journalism."

After the luncheon the students attended lectures of their choice which included editorials, features, and news writing. Sessions in photography and advertising were also held.

A staff bull session was held later in the afternoon with the various college editors. Missourian Editor, Larry Schulenberg spoke before the group on the new changes in the paper this year.

Business Dept. Sponsors Seminar

Mr. H. Lee Sturgeon, tax manager of Arthur Anderson and Company, and public accountant, Kansas City, and Mr. Marshall F. Faillace, partner in charge of tax problems, Arthur Anderson Company, spoke at a seminar on tax problems sponsored by the business department for businessmen and students Tuesday, November 6.

An enrollment fee of $5.00 was charged the businessmen attending. The fee included a noon luncheon at Armstrong's Restaurant.

'Androcles and The Lion' To Go to Stage Nov. 15-16

The first dramatic production of the 1962-63 school year, "Androcles and The Lion", will come to the stage November 15 and 16.

The curtain draws at 8:00 p.m. on a jungle path where Androcles, Robert Sandmeier, and the lion, Leslie Ann Tucker, encounter each other for the first time.

SNEA Members to MSTA Meet, Nov. 9

SNEA members who have signed to go to the Missouri State Teachers Convention in Kansas City this Friday will leave the Horace Mann parking lot at 6:45 Friday morning. Students will be able to eat breakfast before they leave at 6:30 in the Union.

Dr. Wanda Walker, education, announced that the students will attend the general session of convention at 9:30 Friday morning. The students will then meet with other SNEA members from 1:30 to 3:00 Friday afternoon. The bus will depart from Kansas City at the conclusion of the SNEA meeting.

Any additional members who want to make the trip should contact Dr. Walker.

Dr. Dreps Speaks At AAUW Brunch

Dr. Joseph A. Dreps spoke on and demonstrated the foreign language laboratories at the A. A. U. W. brunch held November 3 in the Student Union lounge.

According to Miss Dorothy Weigand, president, the A. A. U. W. is composed of woman graduates of a college or university. The purpose of the organization is to promote education.

Bridge Tourney To Begin Nov. 14

There will be a bridge tournament to be held in the den beginning at 6:30 on November 14 and 15 according to Union Board chairman of tournaments and games, Richard Schmitz.

Registration Teams must be registered in the Union Board office for the event by four o'clock, November 12.

Pairings for the tournament will appear on the den bulletin board Tuesday, November 13.

Four trophies will be awarded to the winners.

The committee on tournaments and games plans a chess tourney at a later date if the bridge event is successful.

The story goes on with conflict between Androcles and his wife, Jeanine Thompson and the lion.

But, as luck would have it, the lion is allowed a chance to repay the kindness showed him by being the one who was chosen to devour the Christians.

As Shaw states it: "In this play I have presented one of the Roman persecutions of the early Christians, not as the conflict of a false theology with a true, but as what all such persecutions essentially are: an attempt to suppress a propaganda that seemed to threaten the interests involved in the established law and order, organized and maintained in the name of religion and justice by politicians who are pure opportunist Have-and-Holders."

Season tickets are now on sale for all three productions: "Androcles and The Lion", "Imaginary Invalid", and "Girl Crazy" for $2.50, from drama club members. Students will be admitted on activity tickets for the coming production.

22 NWMSC Faculty To Attend MSTA Meet

Members of the faculty will attend the M.S.T.A. meeting November 7-9 in Kansas City. There will be separate groupings for various departments (Elementary Education, Vocational Education, etc.).

A reception of the Maryville alumni in the Georgian Room of the Hotel Continental is planned for Thursday, November 8, 4-6 p.m.

Those attending from the college faculty are: President J. W. Jones, Dean Leon F. Miller, Miss El Virga Denning, Miss Laura Frances Jackson, Miss Sara Beth Kurtz, Miss Bonnie Magill, Mr. Dale Midland, Miss Barbara Palling, Dr. Kathryn S. Riddle, Mrs. Lula Mae Sheetz, Mrs. Dorothy Walker, Miss Dorothy Weigand.

Other faculty from Horace Mann are: Mrs. Zelma Akes, Mrs. Pauline Arthur, Mr. David W. Crozier, Mr. E. Rachel Doughty, Mrs. Avis L. Graham, Mrs. Esther Knittle, Mrs. Shela D. Moss, Miss Neva Ross, Mr. Dean E. Savage, Dr. Charles H. Thate.

D. F. Peel, Missourian Sponsor will also attend.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

There seems to be some misunderstanding among the prospective contributors to the column "Letters to the Editor". In order to clear up this problem, perhaps it is first necessary to define the purpose of this column. It is to serve as an outlet for opinions concerning issues about which the readers feel strongly. Issues, small or large, which are worthy for one to believe in and fight for.

The crux of the matter is the lack of signatures on the letters which this desk receives. A large portion of these letters are worthwhile in content, with sound logic and argument. The lack of signature alone keeps them from publication.

The question then becomes, "why is there no signature?" Can it be because the authors are afraid of embarrassment or repercussions? If this is the case, I feel justified in asking whether the question involved is even worth discussion. No signature also seems to indicate a lack of belief. Can one then believe the author's viewpoint?

It would then seem that all letters without signature are letters without basis, purpose and credence of the writer. The sad thing is that these letters do have basis and purpose. They do discuss worthwhile subjects with logical argument. But they are unsigned and thus will never appear in the Northwest Missourian. The issues will perhaps never be brought up in campus discussions. Such a loss through hypocrisy! —LJS

All That Jazz

The cold winds of November whistled through the opened door, driving us deeper into our warm dark corner of the den. Shivering mentally at the onslaught of snow, slush, ice, and frozen ballpoint pen ink which inevitably follow the first mid-term after hope is lost for a winning football season, we turned to warmer thoughts.

Like projecting the right image for instance.

The cool chick, who was getting cooler by the minute, initiated the discussion. "It doesn't matter what you do or if you do it at all," she pontificated, "as long as you project the right image, I mean look at Kennedy."

Flicking the sputters of indignation and protests off like so many ashes, she proceeded, "I mean who knew what he could do before he was elected? All he did was project an image of firm leadership, decisiveness, youthful vigah, cuteness and presto, he's in."

"So what?" we interjected sagaciously and knowing it was useless to try to stop a talking woman, we settled back for a long lecture.

"So it's like that with everything. All you have to do to sell soap is project an image of cleanliness and you're on your way to your first million."

"Whaddyemean first?"

"Silence, child. So what does this all mean? We gotta start projecting our own image here at this institution. I mean like if we can project a Harvard image, what's to keep us from going to Washington?"

"Like we may starve to death first."

"Yeah, but remember, 'They are also served who only stand and wait.' You don't have to get physical about it. I mean after all, violence went out with the riots in Oxford. In answer to your first objection, the President serves banquets which project an image of filling you up."

"Listen chick, a few more mouthfuls like that and I'll project your image right into the blue room. That's no way to talk to a hungry man."

And with this aggressive image projected into the discussion, the conversation abruptly switched to trivial subjects like nuclear war and bridge . . . and all that jazz.

They're Talking About---

THEY'RE TALKING ABOUT . . . the riot every night at King's . . . $50 !!! . . . the monster in the Library . . . beating lights out . . . monster or chicken mash? . . . Cuba . . . the GRO sweat-shirt . . . heavens to mergatroy!!! . . . fainting at the Den movie . . . What ever happened to Campus Bowl?

Inquiring Photographer

Linda K. Jones

There has been a vast amount of discussion and argument on this campus and all over the nation as regards President Kennedy's stand in the Cuban situation. Many people in the know and many not so well informed have voiced their beliefs that the United States should invade the Communist stronghold to the south. Feeling, as we do, that the students of NWMSC probably know as much as other American citizens, the Inquiring Photographer asked:

Do you think the United States should invade Cuba?

Ted Marr, Maryville, Mo., junior, pre-engineering major. "No. I don't think we have the right. Wouldn't it be the same thing if Russia invaded Turkey?"

Linda Potter, Sidney, Iowa senior, social science and English major.

"I think we should if it comes to the point where it would be to invade Cuba or back down on the stand we have taken."

Rollin Watters, Lake City, Iowa, sophomore, business major and economics minor.

"Yes, if the missiles are not dismantled."

Judy Andes, Maitland, Mo., senior, business and accounting major.

"No. Because I think Khrushchev has better sense than that and will back down."

Mike Landry, Kankakee, Illinois, junior, history major.

"No. I want to stay in school."

Phil Richmond, Mt. Ayre, Iowa, senior, social science and history major.

"As of now, no. Russia fears the U.S. as much as the U.S. fears Russia if not more."

THE STROLLER

T'was a lovely afternoon when the Stroller wandered into the center of campus mirth and merriment: ye olde den. The sage was quite exhausted after her mid-term tests. In the past three hours he had written a thousand-word theme on the sex life of a shingle nail and a brief but lucid paragraph on the rise and fall of the Roman Empire.

Jazz Group To Perform Soon

The progressive jazz group under the direction of Mr. Earl Moss, has begun practice sessions and will soon perform. Among the many activities that the group has planned will be a concert tour in the spring and guest appearances at various high schools.

Of Homecoming The Shape

Homecoming, you are false and deceitful. You extract days and short nerves, sore fingers and bitter hearts, all for an hour's passing. You deaden and overwork for majesty destroyable with in part of a percent of its creation, remnantless.

You drain to the dregs the keg of reserve time stock to lavish upon unappreciative drones. And if you do repay, it is only money and small honor.

Homecoming, you are a drunk, partially enjoyable but you give dry heaves, you cost much, you hangover, and you give the feeling of the afternoon after, one of waste for no real gain. But you are more like a drunk, for you appear even more inviting as the time of drinking turns near on the clock face, and so we forget and drink again your bitter brew.

You are poor liquor, for no one enjoys your taste but your effect colors life's drab book and you grow to habit. Homecoming, you are no good, but probably the lesser of two evils. We who are recovering save your bottle.

Peace Corps Representative Speaks at MSC

Dr. David Dichter, Peace Corps Program Operations Officer, spoke here Monday, October 22.

He is the operations officer in charge of Pakistan-Afghanistan.

Born in 1931 and raised (including High School) in Atlantic City, New Jersey, Dichter's undergraduate work was begun at Illinois University. The last two years of his B.A. degree were completed at Aligarh Muslim University in Aligarh, India (1945). There he specialized in Asian Geography and Political Science.

In conjunction with his studies at Aligarh, Dr. Dichter conducted a number of field trips on the Indian sub-continent including several to the Himalayas and the Khasi-Jaintia hills of Assam.

Before finishing his M.A. at the Clark University Graduate

Dr. David Dichter

School of Geography in Worcester, Mass., Dr. Dichter was called up for military service in the U. S. Marine Corps (1955-57).

Upon graduation from Officer's Candidate School in Quantico he served in the Far East as an Amphibious Tractor Platoon Leader with the 1st Marine Regiment.

On his return to the U.S., in 1959, Dr. Dichter completed the requirements for his M.A. degree whereupon he joined the U. S. Information Agency.

After a brief assignment first in Washington and then in Bangkok, Thailand, he was assigned the job as Assistant Branch Public Affairs Officer in Burma. Working out of Mandalay, he and another USIA officer covered the whole northern Burma including the regions adjacent to Communist China.

On his return to the U.S., Dr. Dichter resigned his position with USIA in order to work on his Ph.D. degree at Clark College, London University for 2½ years.

Dr. Dichter has not only traveled extensively in South and Southeast Asia, but he has also driven overland on three occasions from Europe to India. He joined the Washington Staff of the Peace Corps in July, 1962.

Dorms To Receive Honor Portraits

Supplementing the present collection of pictures hung in various campus buildings honoring the person for whom the edifice is named will be those hung Thursday in Richardson Hall and Cook Hall (dormitories for men) and in Hudson Hall (a dormitory for freshmen women.)

Richardson Hall will receive a picture of former President Ira Richardson who served as President of NWMSC from 1913 to 1921. This picture which was donated by President Richardson's friends will be hung in the lobby of Richardson Hall.

For the north lobby of Cook Hall a picture of Mr. T. H. Cook, who was in the social science department from 1907 to 1948, has been given by Mr. Cook's brother, Mr. Ellis G. Cook.

Hudson Hall has been presented a picture of Miss Nell Hudson by the members of Chapter L of PEO in Maryville.

Miss Hudson was a secretary for the college from 1921 to 1927 and served as Registrar from 1927 to 1936.

GSS Celebrates Founder's Day

An address by Mrs. Martha Bladt and a message from national first vice-president, Mrs. Jane Blezek Triplett, were the highlights of the Gamma Sigma Sigma Founder's Day Tea, held in the Union Lounge on Sunday, October 14.

Honored guests present, who were introduced by Judi Lee, included: President and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Seipel, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Long, Mrs. C. E. Koerble, Mrs. Dorothy Walker, and Miss Barbara Palling. Mrs. Walker and Miss Palling are the sponsors of the local chapter.

Bulldogs Easily Dump 'Cats, 43-7

The Bearcats of Northwest State and Kirksville's Bulldogs both stuck to the form charts Saturday afternoon as the 'Cats absorbed their 14th consecutive defeat, this one 43-7, as their MIAA rival ground out 510 yards rushing and passing.

Stander Gets 32-yd. TD

After the intermission Coach Earl Baker's charges again put up a determined effort, and during the entire third period

Chalk Talk Bob Cobb

Major upsets in college football are rarely predictable, but they do happen quite frequently. Last week Cape Girardeau's Indians pulled off a surprise victory against Kirksville's powerful Bulldogs. This win clinched at least a tie for the conference laurels for the Redskins, leaving the winless Maryville Bearcats as the lone obstacle to an unprecedented MIAA grid championship.

The Indians from the boot-heel country feature a very sound well-balanced offensive and defensive ball club, while the Bearcats have played winless ball thus far, dropping eight straight outings. Perhaps only a major miracle could earn them a badly-needed victory against Cape and give the Bearcats a Cinderella finish to a nightmarish year; but, stranger things have happened...

Dixie-land Dandy

If there has been any bright spot in Bearcat football land this year, it has been the fine play of the halfback from Norcross, Georgia, Don Daniels. This Johnny Reb turned Yankee halfback has accounted for a 3.3 yards-per-carry rushing mark and has completed 15 passes in 32 attempts for a 46.8 in the leagues pitching department. The 6' 1", 190 pounder has been the 'Cats' only consistent offensive threat in the rushing category.

Here's a salute to the coaching staff and the members of the Bearcat B-squad whose showing gives us hope for a brighter tomorrow.

held Kirksville out of Maryville territory. In that period the locals dented the scoring column for the only time during the afternoon as freshman fullback Ron Stander snagged a loose ball in the Bulldog's backfield and plugged 32 yards for a TD that brought the spirited crowd of approximately 350 to their feet.

Cape Girardeau, which finishes its season at Maryville Saturday afternoon, clinched at least a title tie by trampling Warrensburg, 29-0 Saturday at Cape.

MSC Bees Sting Mules; Grab Second Victory

The Northwest Missouri State Bearcat B-squad evened their season's record at 2-2 at the expense of the Warrensburg Mules' reserves, 13-6. The Bearcat B-teamers narrowly missed shutting out the Mules who scored on a desperation play late in the contest.

Cats Score First

Midway in the initial quarter David Trimmer, Maryville linebacker, intercepted a Warrensburg pass on the Mules' 30 yard line and broke loose for 10 extra yards on the return. After a series of plays which moved the ball to the Warrensburg four yard marker, Mike Sell blasted over for the score. Wilkinson booted the PAT, giving the 'Cats a narrow 7-0 half-time lead.

Maryville's second TD came after a brilliant pass theft by Robert Rempe, who returned the ball to around the 25 yard line in Warrensburg territory. Sell again took advantage of the aerial theft as he went over from the six. This time the PAT was missed.

Defensive Contest

Coach Burton Richey stated that again the B-squad's defensive unit made the difference in the contest, just as they had done earlier in the month against William Jewell. Richey felt that it was a team effort on the defensive platoons' part but that especially the ends and linebackers contained the Warrensburg attack. Dan Lee Dowell, Rex Sewell, and Ronald Allen, ends, and Larry Engdahl, David Trimmer, Robert Rempe, and Tom Hummel, linebackers, made a number of key stops and also kept Warrensburg quarterback under constant pressure.

The offensive unit was led by backs Ronald Franks, Bernard McLaughlin, and Ronald Mellencamp, along with Mike Sell. Harold Shepherd grabbed five spectacular passes from his end position.

'Cat Runners Defeat Tarkio For Second Win

The Northwest Missouri State College cross country team, coached by Ryland Milner, defeated the Tarkio College squad October 25, for their second win over the Owls.

The final score read Maryville 38 and Tarkio 67. Scoring in cross country is based on the total of the way the runners finish with the low score winning. The 7-man teams ran a 3.3 mile course.

MIAA Race Points to Winless Bearcats as Possible Spoilers

With one game remaining, the Northwest Missouri State College Bearcat football team finds itself in the center of the MIAA Conference title picture.

Yes, the statement is correct. The winless Bearcats will play an important role in the outcome of the conference. Cape Girardeau, after upsetting high-rolling Kirksville 13-6, needs only a victory over Maryville to cinch the crown. Should the Cats win it would be a feather in their helmets and probably place Cape in a tie with Kirksville for the crown.

Statistics wise going into last Saturday's games, Richardson and Minton of Kirksville prove to be the best backs in the conference. Richardson is tops in rushing with 631 yards in 87 carries for a 7.25 average. He also leads in punt returns with 53.3 average on four carries. Minton leads the league in scoring with 24 points.

Lane of Cape Girardeau heads the leading passers with 2 of 44 for a 52.27 percentage. Daniels of Maryville is second in this department with 46.87 per cent on 15 of 32 passes. Wargo of Rolla has caught 28 passes for a total of 401 yards to lead his department. Wofford of Springfield is the leading punter with 17 for a 40.5 average.
